Falls in His Rubber Snit.

Released on Bond.

Part of a Pake.

Steve Brodie claims that he floated over suicide. The whole thing is believed to be a fake, with the arrest thrown in as a

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.)

NIAGARA FALLS, September 7 .- Steve

Brodie claims to have gone over the falls early this morning in his rubber suit. Only four witnesses can be found who know any

Harding, of the Police Gazette; Earnest

Jerold, New York Sun; J. McCarthy, New York World, and Louis Ledger, an attendant. No one living here saw the trip, or knows anything

party are all from New York, arrived here

last evening and put up at the Waverly

House, Clifton, two miles below the falls.

They left the hotel at 4 o'clock this morning and went to the falls, where the suit had been placed in hiding last evening, and the party claim that he got into it some 200 feet above the falls, and with his paddles succeeded in reaching the center of the falls

before going over. He was out of sight about two minutes, when he was seen float-ing toward the American shore, but changed his course and came to the Canadian side, and when about 400 feet from shore Ledger plunged in, swam out and fastened a rope around Brodie's waist, by which he was

When Brodie was taken out of his suit

he was insensible, bleeding from mouth, nose and ears, and it required some time to bring him to, and then he was taken to his hotel, where a physician was summoned. An hour later he was seen in his room, apparently none the worse for his trip. He says that when he first entered the water his heart failed him, and he tried to turn back,

"feet first, and felt as if I was dying. All the sins I ever committed passed before me when I became unconscious. It seems as if I bounded when I struck. The first thing I fully realized I was on the shore. For years I have wanted to go over the falls, till it has become a mania with me, and I had to go over them or go to the insane asylum. I do not think there is any danger, and I had as soon go over in a life preserver." He claims the reason for keep-

LOOKED ON AS A JOKE.

and it is looked upon as a fake. The spot where he claims to have entered the water would compel him to go half way across the river only a few feet above the brink, just where the rapid and current are worst. Where Ledger claims to have swam out for Brodie it would be impossible for any person to live two minutes. Where he claims to have landed is close under the talls, and climbing over a rock along the water's edge, which a man couldn't accomplish in an hour, and if Brodie was injured at all he couldn't have been taken out in several hours. Still only about two hours from the had been accomplished and they were back. By noon Brodie was as well as ever and soon after he was arrested for altempting to commit suicide. The newspaper repre-sentatives, fearful of arrest for false reportation at the hotel, skipped out one by one, no one knows where. Brodie was released on bond that he wouldn't attempt the trip again in a year, and early in the evening

HE REFUSED TO SWEAR.

Brodie said, when taken before Police Magistrate A. G. Hill, that he did not go over the falls. The Magistrate then asked him to swear to the following declaration:

I, Stephen Brodie, the party within charged, hereby declare I did not go over Niagara Falls as within charged, and that story of having gone over was all for the purpose of specula-tion, and untrue.

Brodie refused to swear to the declaration,

NOT ALL ACCIDENT.

Hinting That There Was Method in Dernil.

ing the Shah's Train.

IBY CABLE TO THE DISPATCH.]

the Shah's train was not quite so much a matter of accident as first reports endeavored to show, and point out as a coincidence that the Shah is not favorably regarded in high quarters in St. Petersburg. No sane person really imagines that the Czar would adopt Nihilist methods to get rid of a brother sovereign, however obnoxious he might be, but the mere insinuation of such a thing in Vienna shows the feeling which exists in Austria against all things Russian.

MAY RESULT SERIOUSLY.

One Man Slugs Another With a Good-Sized

Piece of Gas Pipe.

C. H. Frey assaulted Toliver Boyer, in the office of Garrison, Williams & Co., 23,

Seventh avenue yesterday afternoon, striking him in the head with a three foot length of inch and a halfpipe.

Boyer was intoxticated when he went into the office and accused Frey of causing him to loose his situation in the place.

Both men were locked up in the Central

LONDON, September 7 .- The Austrian

with his attendant left for New York.

party

the only way of reaching the point is

No one here takes any stock in the report ing so quiet was his fear of arrest.

"I went over the brink," said Brodie,

about it except by report.

thing about the trip. They are W. E

Continued from First Page.

GREAT DEPRECIATION.

reckless building and competition. One of Burke, however, appeared embarrassed his face was crimson and he tried to laugh Mr. Forrest conducted the examination o

CUBIOUS QUESTIONS.

"Do you know," he at one time ex-claimed, "whether the man who wrote that Before the man could answer another until 22 of them had walked out into the street. There were four peremptory challenges. These were evenly divided between the State and the defense. The latter has now used up 24 of its 100 challenges, while the State has wasted just half as many.

The examination of R. J. Dennett, a fine-looking man from Ravenswood, aroused con-siderable interest. With a strong voice, which could be heard throughout the big court room, he said, in reply to a ques-

For Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee and Lower Michig

Dr. Shafer, one of the physicians of the Polypathic Medical Institute, at 430 Penn ave. Mr. C. V. Pulpress, of No. 46 Liberty street, Allegheny, had for a long time suffered from a weak, tired feeling, no ambition, pain across the small of his back and palpitation of the heart. His complexion was very sallow, and as the diseased condition of his kidneys from which he suffered further progressed, his stomach became involved. He had bloating, belchmans of as and diseased.

Medical Institute at 420 Pann avenue.

Office hours, 10 A. M. to 4 P. M., and 5 to 8 P. M.
Sundays, 1 to 4 P. M. Consultation free

ferring to get fun for themselves by squan for the Cronin Case. dering money in reckless tariff wars with each other. The leading companies amal-

ALL HAVE VERY FIXED OPINIONS gamated a year or two ago, but that the shareholders have not reaped much ad-vantage by the fusion may be gathered from depreciation represents a sum of $25,000,000, due undeniably to mismanagement and the companies is in chancery, and the rest Not a single juror has yet been definitely accepted in the Cronin case. All of the the companies is in chancery, and the rest might as well follow it sooner or later. The municipality will take over the entire dock system of London, forming a harbor trust like that at Liverpool and other seaports. The directors hope the present struggle will have hastened this solution, because they actually cherish the belief that Parliament will not pass a bill which does not provide for purchase at original cost. This would be about $85,000,000, but in open market the property would not fetch more than $25,000,000, and beyond that sum public opinion would certainly not permit the Government or municipality to go. on the subject. ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.1 A VAGRANT VISCOUNT.

The Heir to Vast Estates Arrested for Annoying People With a Hand Organ-

His Wife and Children Assist

in Gathering Pennics.
[BY CABLE TO THE DISPATCH.] LONDON, September 7 .- Two more men bers of Britain's nobility were in the police courts this week in the persons of Viscount Hinton and the Viscountess, who were charged with causing a nuisance by playing their barrel organ in front of a hotel, after they had been ordered to desist. The Viscount is heir to the noble Earl Poullett, or Hinton, St. George, Crew, Kerne and Bel size Park Gardens. The Earl, however, conceived a dislike to the Viscount, because he was born only five months arter the nobleman had made a love match with Eliza Savine Newman, the daughter of a pilot, a simple village maiden, who had had a lover before she married above her station. Being born in wedlock, however, the Viscount is heir to the earldom and estates, but the Earl has steadfastly refused to maintain the offspring of his Countess. The Viscount, therefore, after having run through all post obits he could raise on his prospective estates, has been obliged to ob-tain a livelihood. He was at one time a clown and pantomimist at the Surrey Theater, but for the last year or two has played a barrel organ in the streets. He married a barrel organ in the streets. He married a ballet dancer who figures in the peerage as "Viscountess Hinton," where their offspring, who tollow the organ and pass the cup for pennies, are solemnly registered as Hon. William Henry George Hinton, and Hon. Maud Marie Hinton.

Earl Pouelett, who is 62 years of age, has been doing his best since the birth of the Viscount to discusse of exemption and the period of the period o

Viscount to dispose of everything possible on his estates so that his heir may inherit as little as need be. The entailed estates fall to the Viscount in spite of the Earl, but he has cut down all the timber on them and reduced their value as much as possible, disposing as well of every foot of land that is

The Viscount was fined 40 shillings for causing a nuisance, and her ladyship, the Viscountess, was discharged with a caution.

MARY ANDERSON.

She is Stopping in the Scottish Highlands in Excellent Spirits-Not Likely to Return to the Stage for Many Months Yet.

BY CABLE TO THE DISPATCH. LONDON, September 7 .- Mary Anderson is visiting Wm. Black, the novelist, at his house, Kilichrenan Lodge, Oban, in the health, and her gayety, high spirits and geniality have quite won all Scotch hearts. She spends her time walking, rowing and yachting, or in visiting neighboring places of interest with Black's pretty children. of interest with Black's pretty children.
She informed a representative of THE DISPATCH, who called upon her at Obau, she should remain in Scotland until the middle of October, but should not return to the stage for a long time. "I intend to have real rest and mean to play," she said.
Concerning the rumors disseminated in America regarding her recent illness, Miss Anderson said: "The statement that I was on the verse of insanity had not the slighton the verge of insanity had not the slight est foundation in fact, and I shall be obliged if you will let all my American friends know it. I was simply suffering from exhaustion caused by excessive fatigue. My doctors told me to rest and I am following their advice, and," she added, with a gay laugh "enjoying myself im-with a gay laugh, "enjoying myself imcommit perjury. He was then placed in $500 bonds on his own recognizance to keep Miss Anderson's appearance is a sufficient the laws of the Dominion, especially that of not attempting going over the falls for one efutation of the rumors that she had suf fered permanent physical or mental injury as she says herself, has never enjoyed her

A RED HERRING TRAIL.

The Gladstonians Will Oppose a Catholic University for Ireland. BY CABLE TO THE DISPATCH.1

LONDON, September 7 .- The Glad ing to denounce what they term "these that even if Ballour gets his proposals adopted by a large majority he is certain to leave a deal of soreness behind among his own immediate followers.

It is remarkable that so little has been made of this matter here, considering the importance of the subject, but the public matter is calculated.

apathy is a clear index of the weariness of the people of all things appertaining to

Mr. Gladstone has already expressed himself against the scheme of giving Ireland a Catholic university on Balfour's lines.

A BISHOP'S INDIGNATION.

He Reproves a Clergyman for Listening to

a Lecturer's Blasphemy. (BY CABLE TO THE DISPATCH.)

Brighton, has got into trouble with his boss, the Bishop of Chichester, because the clergyman presided at a lecture delivered by Rev. Justin D. Fulton, of Brooklyn, where-in the lecturer reflected upon the personal character of the Virgin Mary. The Bishop informs Mr. Gregory in a letter that has been made public that he should have prothe lecturer's revolting statements, which must give much offense to all pious believ-ers. It is amazing they should have been received on one occasion with laughter, and on another with applause by an audience professing and calling themselves Chris-tians."

Attention, G. A. R.

IT CAME TO AN END. Claims to Have Gone Over Niagara unduly about shareholders' dividends, pre

The Reason No Jurors Can be Secured

the fact that the present market value of ordinary stock is only from 24 to 42 per cent. for Their Laves. In the stock of two companies alone this SENSATIONAL EVIDENCE IS EXPECTED.

The State Said to Have a Sure Case Against Two of the tales.nen summoned have positive opinions

CHICAGO, September 7.—The seemingly interminable task of securing a jury to try Coughlin, O'Sullivan, Burke, Beggs and Kunz for the murder of Dr. Patrick Cronin was resumed this morning. After five hours of tedious examination of talesmen, court adjourned until Monday morning. Young George Creighton is still held as a possible juror. His companion for Sunday is O. C. Simmonds, a merchant of Ravenswood, who was the last man of the sixth venire, and who was passed by the State just as the hands of the clock marked the hour of adjournment.

The seventh venire was issued in the afternoon, and by 10 o'clock Monday morning the waiting room will be filled with men with fixed opinions and conscientious scruples. Long-haired Senator Kennedy, of Wisconsin, who was retained by somebody to defend Martin Burke, is still missing.

A THEATRICAL OBATION. In the absence of the lawmaker Mr. For-rest got a chance to make one of his theatri-cal orations. It was late in the afternoon and the spectators were almost overcome by the soporific influence of the sepulchral voice of Mr. Wing, when one of the State's officers asked Mr. Forrest who was defend-ing Burke

ing Burke.

The grim-looking leader of the defense jumped out of his chair, and, with a pempous wave of his hand exclaimed, with great ous wave of his hand exchanged, with great emphasis on the personal pronoun: "I am defending Mr. Burke, and I shall defend him to the end." This announcement would seem to indicate that Burke does not intend to turn informer. Mr. Forrest looked very pale after he made this declaration.

talesmen during the morning session. His line of questioning differed widely from that of Wing or Foster.

article was an honest man or a discharge

Before the man could answer Judge McConnell put a large weight on Mr. Forrest, and quietly informed him that that kind of questioning was offensive. Mr. Forrest is a slender man whose pale face is heavily carpeted with closely trimmed whiskers. He has a prominent forehead. When he speaks he buries one hand in a pocket of his trousers and levels the index finger of his other hand at the Court. He is always ready to talk. He used to be a school teacher. used to be a school teacher

Talesmen were excused for one cause or another until 22 of them had walked out

SECOND .: WEEK

OF THE GREAT

PITTSBURG EXPOSITION

Unequaled Attractions in All Departments.

Art Galleries in Perfect Order. Floral Display. Superb Musical Programme.

OPEN DAILY FROM 9 A. M. TO 10 P. M.

.ADMISSION:

ADULTS, 25c.

CHILDREN, 15c.

A VICTIM OF GROVER.

Legitime Charges His Defeat in Hayti to Cleveland's Policy.

A CONCESSION OF TERRITORY

Made by Hippolyte to Secure the Support of the Government.

AN AMERICAN MINISTER A PAID SPY, Who Worked in the Interest of the Insurgent Forces

General Legitime states that his overthrow in Hayti was due to the policy adopted by Mr. Cleveland, and followed out by the Harrison administration. He also charges that the American Minister at Port-au-Prince acted as a paid spy for his enemies. Hippolyte will cede a harbor to the United States in accordance with his bargain with Eleveland. ISPECIAL TELEGRAN TO THE DISPATCH .1 NEW YORK, September 7 .- Ex-President Legitime, just before his departure for France, received at the Hotel Martin a reporter of THE DISPATCH, and to him made custement which is the only statement in reference to Haytian politics that he made for publication during his stay in this city. In it he makes charges of the most serious nature directly against Minister Thompson, the representative of the United States at Port-au-Prince during the recent troubles, whom he accuses of accepting pay for services as a spy upon his associates in the diplomatic corps, and generally against the administration of Mr. Cieveland, which, be alleges, was guilty of the grossest breaches of in ernational law and of the neutrality bound to be maintained by this country in a contest such as that just concluded in Hayti. "What can you say as to your relations with Minister Thompson, our representative at Port-au-Prince?" the reporter asked. General Legitime became interested at once.

A SORT OF A SPY. "Dr. Thompson, as they called him," he said, "was during the administration of General Salomon one of his most trusted servants. I have been informed since that he acted as a sort of spy, informing General Salomon of whatever was going on among his colleagues in the Diplomatic Corps, and for that reason the other foreign Ministers shunned and avoided him. I have also been stormed that General Salomon rewarded Dr. Thompson for this service, paying him various sums.

"When I was elected Provisional President Dr. Thompson had already taken sides with the other faction, and though I constantly evinced my readiness to do all in my power for the people and for the Government of the United States, Dr. Thompson was my bitter enemy to the last. Why, during the siege of Port-au-Prince, he was inside the capital, the center of the elements resisting my government. His house harbored and sheltered conspirators arrayed against me. No more open, barefaced violation of diplo-matic privileges was ever indulged in by a Minister; neutrality was never more openly violated. I can mention many instances in which I should have been AMPLY JUSTIFIED

in sending Dr. Thompson out of the country, and have remained in perfect accord with the tenels of the law of nations. I believed it, however, to be more advisable to tolerate Dr. Thompson's presence, and I continued to do so on account of my high regard for the United States. I am only surprised that he should not have been reod by President Cleveland himself. Do you mean to make the formal charge that Minister Thompson took bribes or was mixed up in doubtful transactions?" the re-"I have not only heard that such things were true," replied General Legitime, "but my Government had many proofs of their truth. Some of the facts were published by our newspapers and severely commented Should the Government of the United States choose to investigate the charges I think they can be easily proven, and it seems to me that a great nation like the United States should neither tolerate such conduct on the part of its agents nor permit such charges to be made without making an investigation of them."

"Were any other representatives of the United States involved in any such charges?" asked the reporter.

PRINTED EVIDENCE. "As to that," said General Legitime, "I can refer you to the documents printed by your own State Department. United States Cousul Geutier, of Cape Haytien, chartered the American steamer Haytian Republic as early as October, 1888, to spread the insurrection from Cape Haytien to St. Mare, to Gonaives, and so on down to the southern ports. Later this same Consul Goutier made the bill of sale of the steamer Carondelet, a vessel chartered in the United States for Hippolyte's service, and which, upon arrival at Cape Haytien, was turned over to our opponents and purchased by them. Consul Goutier acknowledged the bill of sale in his official capacity. I ask you whether an English Consul ever acknowledged bills of sale to American rebels during your Civil War? In many other instances this same Consul aided the Northern party. "Some months ago the Haytien Assembly ordered the publication of our correspondence with the United States Government. If you can obtain a copy of that correspond-Hippolyte's success. I can make this state-ment, as absolutely susceptible of proof, namely, that Hippolyte has not won in this war by his own efforts or the strength of his ence you will find there the true cause of cause, but because the United States has used all the means necessary to secure his VICTIMS OF GROVER. "We became the victims of Mr. Cleveland's policy, and for some reason the present ad-ministration has persevered in the line of conduct originated by Mr. Cleveland. The story of that conduct and its results can be summed up very briefly. In the first place, I was lawfully elected President of the Re-machinery of the Government; my authority was recognized by over two-thirds of the whole Republic. "Nevertheless Mr. Cleveland's administration withheld that recognition to which I claim my Government was entitled. This I claim my Government was entitled. This deprived my Government of the protection it should have been able to find in the court of the United States against the fitting out in this country of unlawful expeditions. That was the reason why the Mercedes and the Caroncelet, which had been secured for the service of the Northern insurgents, were allowed to leave the port of New York.

"In the next place, our blockade of the public of Hayti. At the time of my elec-tion I was in undisputed control of all the

"In the next place, our blockade of the four insurgent ports, the effectiveness of which was recognized by all the European powers, was disregarded by the United States, and thus it happened that Admiral Gherardi conveyed to the then besieged port of St. Marc the Caroline Miller, an American ship which had on board large supplies of contraband goods, the timely arrival of which saved the city from capture by our forces. Then there is the treat-ment we received at the hands of the United States in the affair of the steamer Haytien Redublic. an American stenmer chartered by the Revolutionary Committee of Cape Haytien, and which was captured by our navy in the very act of conveying armed revolutionists to various ports where they were provoking insurrection.

ANOTHER COMPLAINT. "Notwithstanding these facts, it was held by Mr. Cleveland's administration that the seizure was unlawful, and an ultimatum was presented by Admiral Luce to the effect that the virstical ship must be deliced. 120 Water street, "Notwithstanding these facts, it was held was presented by Admiral Luce to the effect that the piratical ship must be delivered to him. You can readily understand TISSU Chicago. Pittsbur that my Government could not hesitate; we had to surrender that rebel property; the policy was forced upon as; the effect it had upon future events can be readily under-

"It is impossible to escape from the con clusion that many and open acts of interven-tion were the result of a deep-seated policy Of course I have not seen any agreement, contract or protocol that may have been signed by General Hippolyte, nor his alleged engagement to cede to the United States that part of Haytien territory known as Mole St. Nicholas, together with its splendid harbor. I know, however, that it is believed that General Hippolyte agreed to such a cession. As for me, I have not con-sented to part with one inch of our national territory. By the unity of Hayti, by its national independence, I have always stood, and to that course I shall devote my whole

"As to the United States, I have always admired it, and I believe that Hayti can be immensely benefitted by friendly relations with such a powerful neighboring republic. But I do know that any attempted occu-pation of part of Haytian territory is fraught with immense perils, and that no Government can last in Hayti which makes such an unpatriotic concession.

THAT REVENUE AMENDMENT.

Governor Beaver Writes the Trades Coun cils About It-He Must Consult the Attorney General First. There was an unusually large attendance last night at the meeting of the Central Trades Council. Joseph L. Evans presided. Five new delegates were admitted. They were: John B. Larkin, L. A. No. 6332: Charles Huf, Brewers' Union No. 22; Edward King, L. A. No. 9681; F. D. Myers, Tin and Sheet Iron Cornice Workers Union No. 12; John Loder, Iron Moulders Union No. 46. J. W. McNaldy was named as the alternate delegate from the Iron Moulders Union No. 46.

The following letter was received from Governor Beaver, relative to the commission appointed to revise the revenue laws, in Trades Council asking as to the legality of the act as it is now constituted: Mr. Charles F. Warde, Pittsburg, Pa.:

DEAR SIR—Your letter of the 26th instant has been received. I have had my attention indirectly and unofficially called to the fact that the bill providing for the appointment of a commission to revise the revenue had been amended during its passage, and that the amendment was not included when it was finally transcribed. The resolution is printed in the pamphlet laws just as it was received by the Chief Clerk of the State Department from the Legislature. It is clear that I have no authority to change it. It is difficult to see how it can be changed now even if the presiding officers of both houses were to sign it after it should be retranscribed, for the reason that the Constitution requires all bills and resolutions equivalent to bills to be signed by the presiding officers of both houses in the presence of the houses respectively. Whether or not the resolution in its present shape would be considered inoperative because the transcribing clerk omitted to include the amendment, is a question which I am not able to decide without earsful consideration. It is a Mr. Charles F. Warde, Pittsburg, Pa.:

scribing clerk omitted to include the amendment, is a question which I am not able to decide without careful consideration. It is a legal question which I would prefer to have passed upon by the Attorney General. When he returns I will have your letter referred to him with a view of securing his professional opinion upon the subject.

It may be true that under the resolution as it is at present no one could be appointed as special representative of the wage-earning class, and yet it is true that the practical results of such representation might be secured suits of such representation might be secured by the commission when organized inviting some representative men to sit with them in some representative men to sit with them in the discussion of the questions which will naturally arise for their consideration. This is a question which may be considered when the appointments are made and the commission organized, if it is considered pradent to have it organized under the resolution as it is at

So far as I am personally concerned it will So far as I am personally concerned it will give me pleasure to do anything in my power consistent with duty which will enable the large constituency which you represent to secure a representation upon the commission.

Very cordially yours,

JAMES A. BEAVER. The Secretary was instructed to acknowledge the receipt of the letter and request Governor Beaver to send to the Trades Council the opinion of the Attorney Gen A committee composed of C. H. W. Ruhe, Conrad Auth, Daniel McWilliams, James C. Young and Patrick Hovey sub-

Resolved, That the Central Trades Council considers itself in duty bound to turn out and considers itself in duty bound to turn out and take part in the ceremonies pertaining to the unveiling of the monument to our late lamented member of the Trades Assembly, Brother Thomas A. Armstrong.

Resolved, That a committee of five be appointed to make all necessary arrangements.

In reply to a communication sent him, A. Strasser, of Buffalo, President of the Cigar Makers' International Union, wrote to the Makers' International Union, wrote to the Trades Council that the seal (blue label) offered for sale by Straus & Sons, of Chicago, Ill., is a fraud, and, of course, unauthorized by the Cigar Makers' Interna-tional Union. The International Union, he stated, is making efforts to punish such

The letter was received and noted. TWO OF THE TRAMPS HELD.

Men Suspected of the Walls Station Assault Sent to Juil. The special officers of the Pennsylvania Railroad were unable yesterday to discover any substantial clew to the identity or location of the tramps who assaulted Brakemen Cox and Nichols at Walls, on Friday afternoon, Mr. Nichols has so far recovered from the beating which he received as to be able to leave his house yesterday.

The four men arrested Friday evening were arraigned before Magistrate Gripp, at Central station, yesterday morning. Way and Smith, the Philadelphia men, were dis-charged. The magistrate and the police were satisfied that they were not connected with the assault. The same cannot be said for the other pair, Henry McArdle and Andrew Eagan, who were taken from a freight car. They were sentenced to 20 days in the county jail for trespass. They will be obtainable if any positive evidence against them should be discovered. Attention, Veterans. Remember the special train to Gettys burg to-morrow morning at 8 o'clock, via the B. & O. R. R., passing through country noted in history. Tickets good to return via Baltimore and Washington, with privilege of stop off. Rate $8 95, with choice of five different routes. Notice to G. A. R. The Pennsylvania Railroad will accept all orders issued by Adjutant General Hast-ings for transportation to Gettysburg for tickets, whether the order is drawn on this or any other company. Attention, Veterans. Remember the special train to Gettys-burg to-morrow morning at 8 o'clock, via the B. & O. R. R., passing through country noted in history. Tickets good to return via Baltimore and Washington, with privi-lege of stop off. Rate $8 95 with choice of five different routes. Be Sure to Try Them. Pancakes baked before your eyes from famous self-rising pancake flour, at Mar-vin's stand in the Exposition. Don't lorget to try them when you visit the big Children's Jackets. Great big assortment. Prices to suit all. KNABLE & SHUSTER, 35 Fifth avenue.

Attention, Veterans. Remember the special train to Gettys burg to-morrow morning at 8 o'clock, via the B. & O. R. R., passing through country noted in history. Tickets good to return via Baltimore and Washington, with privilege of stop off. Rate $8 95, with choice of five

NOT SO MYSTERIOUS.

Evidence That William Bartholomew Shot Farmer Dilliard.

A CASE OF LOVE AND JEALOUSY. There Had Been Frequent Quarrels in Both Households.

MRS. DILLIARD PROBABLY ASSISTED In Setting Her Rushand Out of the Way to Live

With His Murderer. The murder of Washington Dilliard. farmer living near Easton, Pa., on Friday morning, is being cleared up. William Bartholomew, a neighbor, has been arrested for the crime, and Mrs. Dilliard is suspected of complicity in it. ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.) EASTON, September 7.-The suspected nurderer of Washington Dilliard, the farmer who lived near Bearsville, and who was shot early yesterday morning while investigating a presumed raid by thieves on his chicken pen, was lodged in the Easton jail to-night. He is Wiliam Bartholomew, a slouchy, unkempt, repulsive looking man of about 50 years. He has been the admitted lover of Mrs. Dilliard for some years, and there is no doubt in the minds of the officers that the woman knows all about the intentions of the

The story of the crime, as learned by the Coroner to-day, is this. At about 2 o'clock Mrs. Dilliard awakened her husband and told him that some one was in the chicken pen. She was dressed at that time. She persuaded him to go out and investigate, giving him his gun, which, it was afterward

HAD BEEN TAMPERED WITH so that it could not be discharged. She and her 13-year-old son accompanied Dilliard part way, and then returned to the house. Dilliard walked on, and not finding any-thing wrong at the chicken pen, was re-turning, when his wife called to him to go over to a cherry tree near the road, and see if any of the chickens roosting on it had been taken. As he did so he was shot and fell, but managed to walk to the porch of the house, where he fell dead at the feet of his wife. Very little evidence has yet been taken by Coroner Weaver. The stories of Mrs. Dilliard and of her son were heard first. The wife testified that recently she and her husband had lived without h quarreling. A year ago they removed to their present home. much Before that they lived near William Bar-tholomew's house, and there had been many quarrels because Bartholomew visited at the house. She narrated the story as above, omitting that portion referring to the cherry

SHE DECLARED POSITIVELY everal times that she did not hear a report of a gun. It is a fact that neighbors half a mile away heard it. That the wife had directed her husband to the tree was learned by the jury, and they recalled her, asking her if she had told everything. She said When asked if she had not suggested that he go to the tree, she said she "remembered that she had." An investigation showed that the murderer had stood in the road, rested his gun on the fence, and fired at Dilliard, who was about 20 feet away, probably holding the lantern to look at the chickens in the tree. Jacob D. Dilliard, the 13-year-old son of the murdered man, was the next witness, The lad has a pleasant face, and told his story in a straightforward manner. "When I woke last night," he said, "mother was out of bed and father was still in bed. She called him to get up. We went down-stairs together. Father got the lantern, and mother got the gun. Then we went out into the back yard, and father had not been gone more than a minute from the porch when he came running back and FELL ON THE PORCH He handed me the lantern and said floor. 'Oh.' Mother was inside of the door, and I ran for help. Mother directed father while in the yard, told him to go over to the cherry tree and look."

The boy then told about the gun and was next questioned about Bartholomew. He said Bartholomew came a great deal to the house, and very often when his father was away. Bartholomew would send him to the store for tobacco and would give him candy and peanuts. Bartholomew had some weeks ago looked at the works of the gun while at the Dilliard

The intimacy of Bartholomew and the Dilliard woman dates back several years. Bartholomew's wife died a year ago, and she, too, frequently quarrelled about Mrs. Dilliard. After Dilliard moved his family from a house near where Bartholomew lived his visits ceased for a time, then began again, and he used to make the three-mile journey between his house and that of the Dilliards three and four times a week. He slept at the house several times the last two weeks, THE ACCUSED'S STATEMENT. Bartholomew was on the witness stand two hours to-day and though made ex-tremely nervous by the questions he did not commit himself. He admitted that there had been family quarrels on account of his visits to the Dilliard woman, but said Dil-liard never spoke to him about it. The evidence against Bartholomew is cir-cumstantial, but of the strongest kind. Two keys found near the Dilliard House at-tached to a piece of leather string, were belonging to him. The string were recognized by Bartholomew's daughter as belonging to him. The string was a part of a watch chain which fitted into a broken chain found on Bartholomew. Bartholomew says he was home all of Thursday night. His daughter says she knows he was out of the house after mid-night. His boots fit the tracks which lead ecross the fields between his house and that

CAUGHT IN MARYLAND. Edward Castle Will be Brought Back to

Pittsburg for Trini. Edward Castle, who was implicated in a burglary in the Hill district over a year ago, was arrested by the local officers in Hagerstown, Md., yesterday. An officer of the Pittsburg force will be sent to take him back to-morrow morning. His partner in the burglary was sent to the penitentiary for two and a half years, Castle making good his escape at the time.

SIX CARS SMASHED.

One Train Runs Into the Rear End of Another on the Pennsy Road. It was rumored late last night that collision had occurred on the Pennsylvania road at New Florence, in which several persons were killed. The report proved to be unfounded. One freight train ran into the rear of another at Bolivar and smashed six cars. No one was injured. The track was blockaded seven hours. Attention, G. A. R. Remember the special train to Gettys-Bemember the special train to Gettys-burg to-morrow morning at 8 o'clock, via the B. & O. R. R., passing through country noted in history. Tickets good to return via Baltimore and Washington, with privi-lege of stop off. Rate, $8 95, with choice of five different routes.

Marvin's Exposition cakes. Children cry for them and old folks walk a mile to get them.

S. S. MARVIN & Co. The Very Latest.

BOTH HORS DE COMBAT. BRODIE'S LAST FEAT.

But the Library Association Drew First Blood in the Set-To-The Highest Bld

Offered Was $131.000. Judge Slagle yesterday called Judge Stowe into consultation regarding the intervention of the Library Association in the HE GETS HIMSELF ARRESTED matter of the sale of Library Hall by the Sheriff on the mortgage held by Mr. Felix R. Brunot, and on which Mr. Charles J. Clarke appears as the For an Attempt to Commit Suicide, and is mover in a manner which at present appears to subject himself to criticism by some of the people opposing the sale. Judge Stowe decided to allow the sale to proceed LITTLE STOCK TAKEN IN THE STORY. with the understanding that the Library The Whole Business, Arrest and All, Thought to be Association should have the right to offer objections subsequently to ratification. His Honor regarded the matter as too serious to be disposed of without due consideration and argument. Niagara Falls in his "rubber suit yesterday.

On the whole the Library Association are He was arrested on a charge of attempted disposed to be satisfied with the shape in which the controversy is left. Said one: "It gives us what we have been trying to get, time for funding, but at the ame time it somewhat complicates the sit-nation. The proceedings so far make the proposed gobble more difficult, but we are thereby forced into an apparent fight with people whom we do not wish to antagonize; people who are friendly to us."

The property was offered at 2 o'clock P.M., but before bids were entertained the following notice by Messrs. McClung and Neeper, Esqs., on behalf of the Young Men's Mercantile Library Association, was given and read by Mr. Marshall:

Notice is hereby given that the mortgage which is the basis of the judgment on which the present writ issues, was executed by the defendant without authority. The holder of the bond was a member of the Board of Directors of said want of authority, and said defendant was trustee of the Pittsburg Library Association, which is the equitable owner, the defendant company improperly permitted judgment to be ompany improperly permitted judgment to intered by the defendant and the purchase his sale will take no title to the property.

Thus handicapped, bidding began, $5,000 Thus handicapped, bidding began, $5,000 being the first offer. At first there were a number of bidders, among them John Walker, once a member of the firm of Carnegie, Phipps & Co. They dropped out one by one until Mr. A. Thomson, of the law firm of Thomson & Son, and John M. Kennedy, Esq., the latter representing the parties wanting to force the sale, were the only ones left. After rising to $100,000 the bids fell off to $400, to $500, and finally there was a rest at $131. $500, and finally there was a rest at $131,-000. Mr. Kennedy's bid.

Notice was given of the priority of a $30,-000 mortgage held by the Shields estate and $100,000 by the West Penn Hospital. There was then a powwow between Messis. Kennedy and Holmes, the latter trustee of one of the mortgages, when Mr. Kennedy stayed the writ and the sale was off. The matter will come up again in court for a hearing on the 27th inst.

SAYS HE SHOT ST. CLAIR.

Remarkable Story of a Man in Cinc An Incident Connected. The story related by one George McCor mick in Cincinnati is remarkable, if true. He appeared at a police station and desired to be locked up as the man who burglarized several stores in Wilkinsburg last spring, and fired a number of shots at Mr. St Clair of Penn avenue, who had tried to repulse him. McCormick stated that he was from Greensburg, Pa., and that he had recently heard that a man named Frank Finds was under arrest in this city for the birglary and attempted killing, and that he wanted to save an innocent man. Assistant Superintendent Roger O'Mara takes no stock in the story, and a telegram from Greensburg reports McCormick as un-known in that city. known in that city.

Cyrus Alshouse, of Point Perry, vho was arrested by the Wilkinsburg Vigilance iust succeeding the attack upon Committee just succeeding the attack upon St. Clair, and incarcerated in 'Squire Creelman's office for several hours upon sus-picion of being the burglar, has brought suit for $25,000 damages, claimed on account of his detention in jail. His acquittal tool place when he was placed on trial. The parties named in the suit are Samuel Creelman, William Ross, Frank Cunrod, William Linn, William McCloskey, Floyd Ross and George C. Welsher.

MILK SHAKE GIVES UP. He Will Abide by Judge Stowe's Decision and Not Sell on Sunday. The Law and Order Society won their cases against Milk Shake Martin. He had appealed to court on three separate suits.

The decision of the Court went against him in each appeal. The Judges indorsed the action of the lower courts, and Martin had to whack up $25 and costs or spend 30 days at the barrel factory. Martin said last night: "I will abide by the ruling of the Court; judgment was adverse to me, and it would be short-sighted policy to pursue a course that is a financial loss weekly. I will not be injured commen-surately with the public inconvenience. The law that compels me to close down my soda fountain is cruel and oppressive, yet when the iron hand of the law clutches you it is impossible to free yourself from its grasp. The result of the judgment will be to close down my soda water fountain on Smithfield street. If the public's mouth is parched to-day by the action of the sun there is a delightful hydrant with a couple of tin cups attached on Fifth avenue, near e postoffice. Until this obnoxious law rescinded, you may expect the milkshake machine of John A. Martin to enjoy a Sabbath rest. I will, however, open my stand at the Exposition. I presume the Cold Water League will not pull me in for catering to the public wants there."

Notice to G. A. R. The Penusylvania Railroad will accept all orders issued by Adjutant General Hastings for transportation to Getty sburg for tickets, whether the order is drawn on this or any other company. The Oyster Senson. With September comes the opening of the oyster season and the consequent de-mand for Marvin's superior oyster crackers. The luscious bivalve is incomplete without them. Everybody wants them. Your grocer keeps them. TISSU Silks. Silks. Silks. Blacks, fancies, colored and stripes. We can show you great bargains in these goods. Surah silks a specialty. KNABLE & SHUSTER, 35 Fifth avenue.

PITTSBURG beer, brewed by Frauenheim & Vilsack, is a product of home industry. Call for it. Drink it. Telephone 1186. Attention, G. A. R. Remember the special train to Gettysburg to-morrow morning at 8 o'clock, via the B.& O. R. R., passing through country noted in history. Tickets good to return via Baltimore and Washington, with privilege of stop off. Rate $8 95 with choice of five different routes.

G. A. R. Take Notice.

All orders issued by Adjutant General Hastings for transportation to Gettysburg, will be accepted by the agents of the Penn-sylvania Railroad for tickets, whether the order is drawn on this company or any other company. At the Expo. When you go to the Exposition don't fail to visit Marvin's stand and get a delicious hot cake, made from Marvin's un-rivaled, self-rising pancake flour. Then when you go home again take with you a sack of the flour and make some cakes for yourself.

station. Boyer was struck over the left temple and his injuries may result seri-THE GETTYSBURG EXCURSION. Three Hundred Orders Honored and the Tickets Sold by the B. & O.

Mr. Smith, Division Passenger Agent of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, was seen vesterday. He was very jubilant over the prospect for Gettysburg excursions. Three hundred State orders have already been ionored and as many have been sold; four palace cars have, been engaged, and Mr. Smith expects that the engagement of a fifth will follow. There is every prospect of a decidedly pleasant excursion. Mrs. Johnston, of Washington avenue, Allegheny, a lady of 86 years, tripped and fell down a flight of stairs at her home last taken to the General Hospital in the ambulance, where, on account of her great age, her case is considered precarious.

night and fractured her thigh. She was Pashed Off the Sidewalk. C. H. Albert Berg, while quarreling with James Shields, of Pearl street, pushed him off the sidewalk. Shields fell back and his head struck a cobblestone, inflicting a serious wound. He immediately made an information against Berg, who was placed under a $300 bond to appear for trial on Monday.

Remember the special train to Gettysburg to-morrow morning at 8 o'clock, via the B.& O. R. R., passing through country noted in history. Tickets good to return via Baltimitory. James Shields, of Pearl street, pushed him newspapers are hinting that the disaster to stonians have formally announced that they intend wrecking Balfour's Catholic University scheme if possible. The Ulster Orange members have called a great meetiniquitous proposals," and Michael Davitt bitterly opposes the scheme, which he designates as a red herring trail across the home rule scent, which of course describes the whole situation in a sentence. Some of the English county members of Established church proclivities are also fuming, so

LONDON, September 7 .- Rev. J. G. Gregory, incumbent of Emmanuel Church,

He continued: "I hope you will take some opportunity of publicly repudiating